Shepherd's Dream

PNW Wonderland

Jessica Johnson is a contemporary landscape oil painter born in San Francisco and raised in the Pacific Northwest. Passionate about the outdoors since her earliest backpacking trip, just 3 years old, she works to capture and communicate the inspiring beauty of the landscapes that surround her home and permeate her adventures.

Jessica creates vibrant oil paintings through bold brushstrokes, color, and movement, and invites the viewer to feel more connected to this beautiful planet, "to revel in her landscapes." Mastering her impressionist styling silently communicates that message.

Gallerie Karon

Artist as Poet

Gallerie Karon's annual show, "Artist as Poet" showcases artists who are poets and poets who are artists.

It's interesting to unveil the backgrounds and current talents of our artists that few know about! Who knew that Judy Benson Le Nier wrote an occasional (and stunning) poem to go with her wildlife photography? Horst Wolf has limericks, paintings and books. Jesse Widener has his photography with us but also writes poetry and music. Ken Deveney contributes poetry, paintings (several mediums) photography and music.

New this year - a whole family of artistic people! Dan Felman, our popular guitarist, writes original music and lyrics. His two children have contributed photography and poetry (Abigail) and line drawing and poetry (Reuben). We're also proud to showcase new work by Rebecca Gabriel and Jonah Bernstein.

APRIL 2019
FEATURED GALLERIES

Hanson Howard Gallery

Deborah Oropallo, Dark Landscapes for a White House, video and photomontage

In conjunction with The Ashland Independent Film Festival and The Schneider Museum of Art we will be featuring Deborah Oropallo, Dark Landscapes for a White House, video and photomontages on paper.

Show runs April 5-23

Opening reception during the Ashland First Friday Art Walk April 5th, 5-8 pm.

Artist talk and reception Thursday, April 11th, 5:30-7:30. *This event is free to the public.

Dark Landscapes for a White House critiques our cultural habituation to political and ecological traumas. Oropallo employs photomontage as a strategy for visualizing how media-based images accumulate and overwhelm our collective consciousness.

Deborah Oropallo was born in Hackensack, New Jersey. She received a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Alfred University, and a joint Master of Arts/Master of Fine Arts from The University of California, Berkeley.
