Autumn Art in Multiple Mediums

Our theme for October is autumn and all it brings with color, texture, warmth in layering and the merging of foliage with art. Our featured artists include Jeanne La Rae in our main gallery. Her show, "Color Reflected," showcases Jeanne's favorite subjects, water and autumn color. Katherine Dron will be showing her work in the upstairs lounge. Her show, "Fragmenting Flowers" explores our local, natural environment by marking paper with ink and watercolor. In our Photographers Co-op, Diana Standing is featured. Her show, "Autumn Impressions," is a tribute both to her favorite season, Autumn, and to some of her favorite painters of the impressionist and expressionist traditions. She uses a slow shutter speed, camera motion, rare light, and in some cases an occasional breeze to achieve the desired affect.

Finally The Cascade Bonsai Society and local Ikebana artists will be exhibiting a collection of bonsai and art in the main classroom.

Photographers' Gallery

Featuring Diana Standing

"Autumn Impressions," Ashland photographer Diana Standing's exhibit at the Photographers Gallery at the Ashland Art Center opens on October 4th, the First Friday Art Walk, and continues for the month. Her exhibit is a tribute both to her favorite season, autumn, and to some of her favorite painters of the impressionist and expressionist traditions. She uses a slow shutter speed, camera motion, rare light, and in some cases an occasional breeze to achieve the desired affect.

To Diana, there's a unique quality to the light of autumn, one that adds a profound depth and vibrancy to nature. It's a season of many moods and constant motion, with bursts of color and abstract patterns, some bright, some brooding. It's nature's final gasp in all its glory as it fades into winter. She hopes to have captured this layered atmosphere in her images, with its correspondences to our deeper senses.

Ashland Art Works

Paintings and Sculpture

For the month of October, Ashland Artworks will be featuring paintings by Michael Gibson and wire sculptures by George Popa. Meet the artists at the First Friday Artwalk Oct. 4th from 5:00 to 8:00pm.

Michael has a passion for art, travel and photography that is reflected in his art. He is prolific, and works in many mediums, which can be viewed at Ashland Art Works. Michael will also be on the Studio Tour in October.

George's work expresses a childhood fascination with moving things that he's never lost. He creates his sculptures using stainless steel wire and silver solder from sketches. His work ranges from airplanes to sharks.

OCTOBER 2019

FEATURED GALLERIES

Art & Soul Gallery

The Joy of Color

"The Joy of Color" is born of the joy of drawing and painting outdoors. Throughout the spring and summer the Bennetts, husband and wife, have been converting these studies into larger studio paintings. They have been highly energized by new studio spaces adding a spark of color and creativity to their work. Sue Bennett debuts a new path of charmingly colorful and illustrative acrylic paintings designed to bring a smile and lift the heart. In June, 2019, Steve Bennett was awarded Signature membership in the Pastel Society of the West Coast.

"We hope our show will bring a smile and a spark of joy to our viewers." – The Bennetts

Live music of First Friday will be provided by "Sidewalk Café." The trio - Beth Martin, violinist and singer, Craig Martin, guitarist, and Todd Ragland, fretless bassist play swing, Gypsy jazz and bossa nova.

On display at Art & Soul Gallery October 1–27. Meet the artists at our First Friday Reception, Oct. 4th from 5–8 pm!
